SECTION 01

Welcome to Lady Victoria Planning

Thank you for trusting Lady Victoria Designs with the planning and production of your celebration. Our role is to bring structure, clarity, and calm leadership to the process while protecting the experience you want your guests to remember.

OUR PROMISE

You will always know what is happening, what requires your attention, who owns the next step, and when a decision is due.

This welcome packet explains how we will work together. Please review it before the kickoff meeting and keep it close throughout planning.

With care, Irene

Irene Ntiako, Founder & Creative Director

SECTION 02

Your Planning Collection

Every Lady Victoria celebration begins with the planning collection you selected. Your kickoff meeting confirms how your collection runs: the scope we lead, the milestones we track, and the decisions that will come to you along the way.

Venue Discovery & Budget Blueprint — $850

A guided starting point: we help you find the right venue and set a clear, workable budget framework before the major decisions begin.

Wedding Management & Coordination — $4,200

For couples planning their own wedding who want a professional team to pull it together and lead wedding week and the event day itself.

Up to 150 guests · add $500 for each additional 50

Partial Planning — $7,200

A partnership: we join you partway through planning, refine what is underway, and carry the remaining decisions and production to the finish.

Up to 150 guests · add $600 for each additional 50

Full Wedding Planning — $9,500

The complete experience, led from first decision to final farewell: roadmap, vendors, design direction, production, and event-day leadership under one roof.

Up to 150 guests · add $750 for each additional 50

DESIGN SERVICES

Planning and design are quoted as one seamless experience. Each design collection is shaped to your venue, guest count, and vision at kickoff.

The Full Production
from $55,000

SECTION 03

Your Planning Experience

Every celebration moves through the same seven phases. This is the rhythm of our work together: what happens at each stage, and what you receive from it.

PHASE	WHAT HAPPENS	WHAT YOU RECEIVE
Discover	We confirm priorities, budget, venue, decision-makers, and risks.	Planning foundation and next priorities
Strategize	We build the roadmap, budget structure, and decision sequence.	Customized planning roadmap
Curate	We identify and evaluate vendor partners.	Curated recommendations and comparisons
Design	We align atmosphere, florals, production, and guest experience.	Cohesive design direction
Produce	We coordinate contracts, logistics, timelines, and details.	Production plan and final timeline
Execute	We lead wedding week and event-day operations.	Calm, coordinated celebration
Elevate	We close the event and complete follow-up.	Returns, wrap-up, and final care

From the first decision to the final farewell, carried with care.

SECTION 04

Your Planning Timeline at a Glance

Most celebrations follow the rhythm below. Your collection, your venue, and how far out we begin will stretch or compress these bands. Your exact dates and deadlines are set together at your kickoff meeting and tracked in your planning roadmap.

TYPICAL TIMING	PHASE	THE FOCUS
12+ months out	Discover	Priorities, budget, venue, and decision-makers confirmed; kickoff held.
10–12 months out	Strategize	Roadmap, budget structure, and the sequence of decisions ahead.
8–11 months out	Curate	Vendor partners evaluated, compared, and contracted.
5–9 months out	Design	Atmosphere, florals, and guest experience aligned into one direction.
2–5 months out	Produce	Contracts, logistics, and details coordinated toward the final timeline.
Final month to wedding week	Execute	Final confirmations, wedding-week leadership, and the celebration itself.
The days after	Elevate	Returns, wrap-up, and final care, so the event closes properly.

A NOTE ON TIMING

These bands are a guide, not a promise of specific deliverable dates. If your celebration is closer than twelve months, we simply begin where you are.

SECTION 05

Communication Standards

Clear communication is the backbone of a calm planning experience. These are the standards we hold ourselves to, and the etiquette that keeps one clear channel working for everyone.

SITUATION	OUR STANDARD
New or routine messages	Same business day whenever possible; always within 24 hours.
Messages needing research	Acknowledgment first, followed by a specific time for the complete answer.
Wedding week	Priority response, with a two-hour target for active-event concerns.
Event day	Immediate acknowledgment through the designated event channel.
Meeting recap	Written summary within 24 hours.

> IMPORTANT
> Please use the agreed planning channel for project decisions. Texts are reserved for urgent wedding-week or event-day matters unless otherwise agreed.

COMMUNICATION ETIQUETTE

- [ ] Include both partners and approved decision-makers when appropriate.
- [ ] Keep one subject per email or portal thread.
- [ ] Review meeting recaps and flag inaccuracies promptly.
- [ ] Use the urgent-contact method only for time-sensitive matters.
- [ ] Allow the planning team to verify details before responding to complex vendor or venue questions.

SECTION 06

Roles and Responsibilities

A well-run celebration is a partnership. Here is what we own, and what we ask of you, from signing to the wedding day.

Lady Victoria Planning

- [ ] Build and maintain the planning roadmap.
- [ ] Recommend qualified vendors aligned with scope.
- [ ] Track key milestones, contracts, and logistics.
- [ ] Coordinate the approved vendor team.
- [ ] Lead wedding week and event-day execution.
- [ ] Communicate risks and provide options.

You & your decision-makers

- [ ] Provide complete and accurate information.
- [ ] Review recommendations and decide by deadlines.
- [ ] Sign contracts and make payments unless otherwise authorized.
- [ ] Share family, cultural, accessibility, and privacy needs.
- [ ] Identify authorized decision-makers and financial approvers.
- [ ] Respond promptly when decisions affect schedule or cost.

> DECISION CONTROL
> To protect the event, final instructions come through the approved decision-maker. Conflicting family or vendor requests are routed back through that authority.

SECTION 07

Investment & Payment Schedule

Our payment structure is the same for every planning client: simple, predictable, and tied to the rhythm of the work itself.

AT SIGNING

40%

Non-refundable retainer, due when your agreement is signed. This reserves your date and begins the work.

90 DAYS BEFORE

30%

Second installment, due ninety days before the celebration.

30 DAYS BEFORE

30%

Final installment, due thirty days before the celebration.

The complete terms of your agreement, including how changes in scope are handled, live in your signed contract, which governs if anything here ever differs. Your planning roadmap always shows what has been paid and what is coming due.

SECTION 08

Your First 14 Days

The first two weeks set the foundation for everything that follows. Here is what we complete together.

- [ ] Contract and required first payment confirmed.
- [ ] Client workspace and project record created.
- [ ] Primary contacts and approved decision-makers confirmed.
- [ ] Welcome packet and kickoff questionnaire completed.
- [ ] Existing contracts, proposals, inspiration, and venue documents uploaded.
- [ ] Kickoff meeting scheduled.
- [ ] Top three priorities and immediate risks reviewed.
- [ ] First planning actions assigned with owners and deadlines.

Your first three actions

01 · COMPLETE THE KICKOFF QUESTIONNAIRE BY

02 · UPLOAD EXISTING CONTRACTS AND VENUE DOCUMENTS TO

03 · SCHEDULE OR CONFIRM THE KICKOFF MEETING FOR

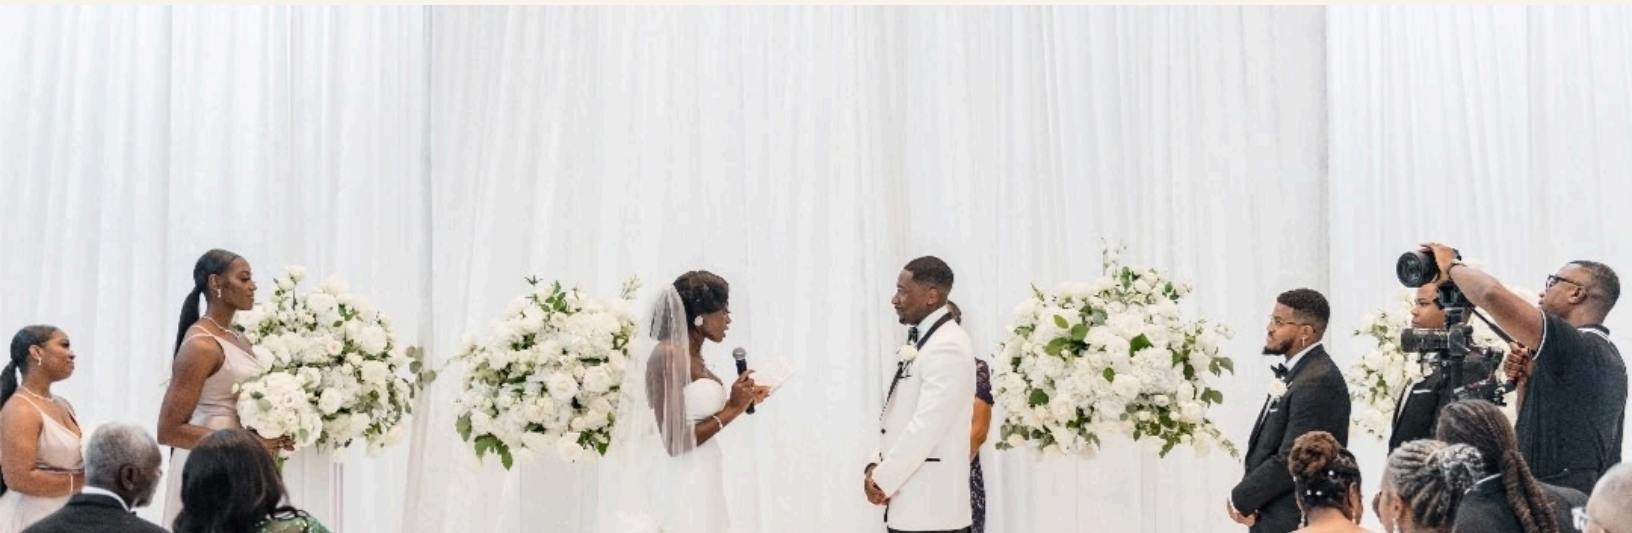

SECTION 09

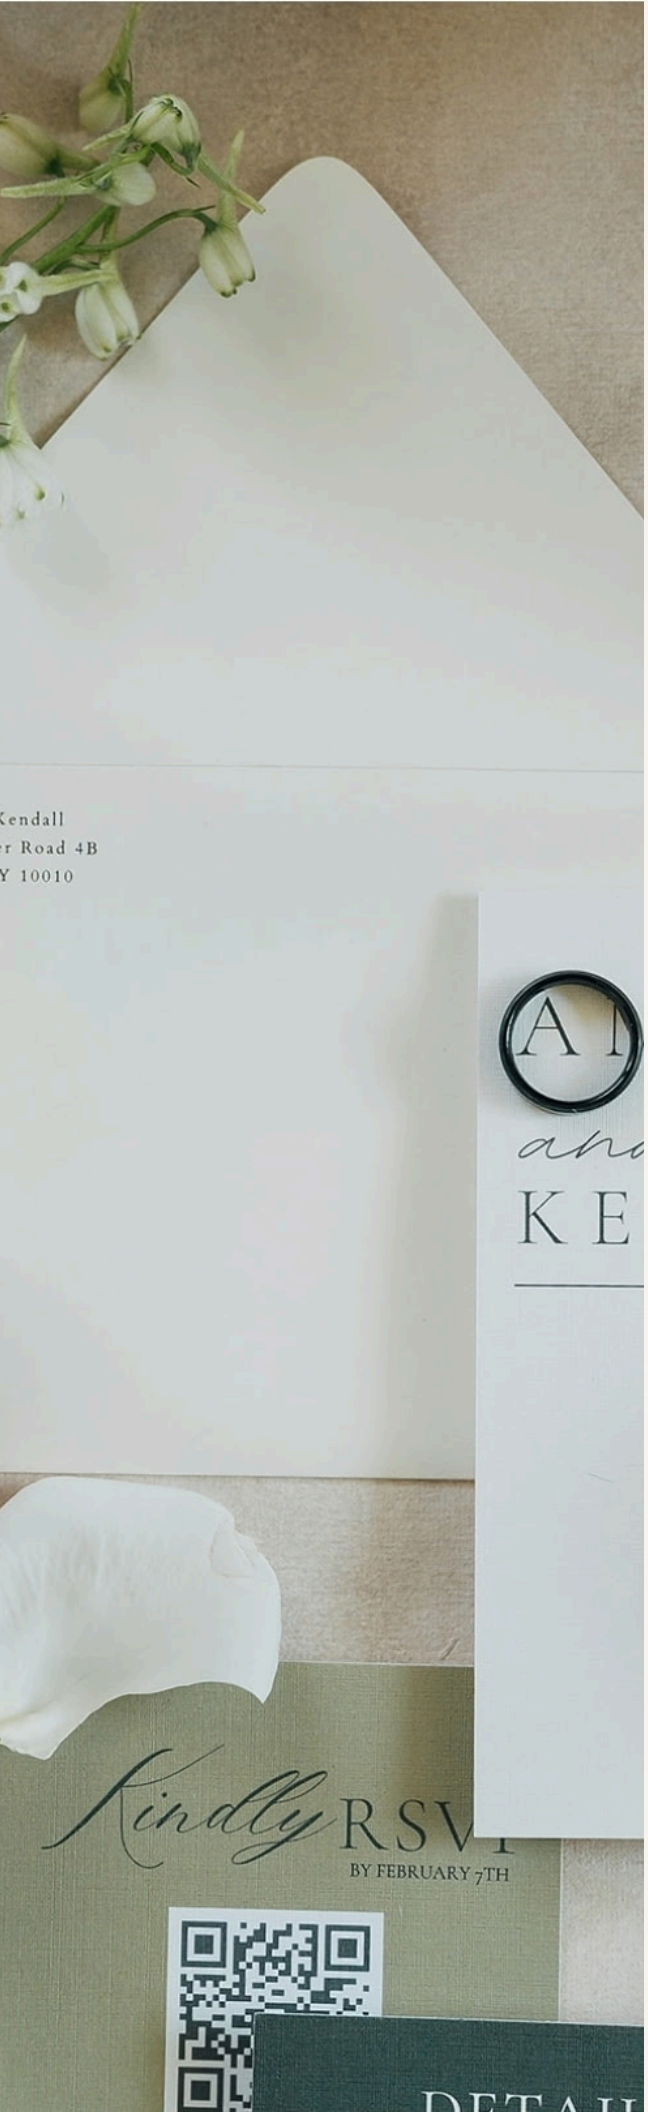

Kickoff Meeting Agenda

Your kickoff meeting turns this packet into a working plan. Together, we will:

- [ ] Confirm the desired guest experience and top three priorities.
- [ ] Review the contracted planning scope and responsibilities.
- [ ] Confirm working budget, guest estimate, venue status, and existing vendors.
- [ ] Identify family, cultural, religious, travel, accessibility, and privacy considerations.
- [ ] Review the Lady Victoria Method and planning-roadmap structure.
- [ ] Confirm communication channel, meeting rhythm, and decision authority.
- [ ] Resolve the most urgent current question.
- [ ] Assign the next three actions with owners and deadlines.

> MEETING OUTCOME
> The kickoff is complete when responsibilities are clear and the next meeting, decisions, tasks, and deadlines are visible.

SECTION 10

Client Worksheets

This is where the celebration starts to take shape: in your words first, our design second. Please complete both worksheets before your kickoff meeting. Together they become the reference pages for your entire planning record.

- [ ] Insurance or permit requirements already received
- [ ] Prior planning notes and family commitments

SECTION 12

Approval and Decision Standards

Timely decisions protect availability, pricing, and production quality. When a decision affects cost or schedule, Lady Victoria Planning presents the available options, the recommended path, the deadline, and the likely consequence of delay. We track every open decision together, in one place.

SECTION 13

Wedding Week Communication

Wedding week runs on one channel and one plan. A few simple agreements keep it that way.

- [ ] Use the designated wedding-week group or contact method.
- [ ] Report urgent changes immediately.
- [ ] Do not give vendors instructions that conflict with the final timeline.
- [ ] Direct family requests to the lead planner.
- [ ] Protect personal documents, rings, attire, gifts, and cards using the agreed custody plan.
- [ ] Trust the planning team to resolve operational issues quietly.

> WEDDING WEEK GOAL
> You should be present for the celebration, not managing the production. We lead the approved plan and bring necessary decisions to the designated authority.

SECTION 14

Meet Your Team

Irene Ntiako

FOUNDER & CREATIVE DIRECTOR

Irene founded Lady Victoria Designs and leads the creative direction of every celebration the studio produces. Her promise opens this packet, and she remains closely involved from first call to final farewell.

SECTION 15

Questions New Clients Ask

How quickly will we hear back from you?

New and routine messages are answered the same business day whenever possible, and always within 24 hours. If a question needs research, we acknowledge it first and give you a specific time for the complete answer, so you are never left wondering where things stand.

Who gives the final word on decisions?

Your approved decision-maker does. To protect the event, final instructions come through that one authority. If family members or vendors bring conflicting requests, we route them back through the decision-maker rather than acting on them directly.

How are decisions made, and what happens if we are slow to decide?

When a decision affects cost or schedule, we present the options, our recommended path, the deadline, and the likely consequence of delay. Timely decisions protect your availability, pricing, and production quality, so the deadline is always real and always explained.

What should we send you first?

Whatever already exists: your signed venue contract and policies, vendor contracts or proposals, payment schedules, your guest estimate, floor plans, inspiration boards, and anything else on the Document Upload Checklist. Your first three actions are on the First 14 Days page.

What does wedding week look like for us?

Quiet, on your side. We communicate through one designated wedding-week channel, lead the approved plan, and bring only necessary decisions to you. Urgent matters get a priority response: a two-hour target for active-event concerns, and immediate acknowledgment on the event day itself.

Should we text you when something comes up?

For project decisions, please use the agreed planning channel so nothing is lost. Texts are reserved for urgent wedding-week or event-day matters, unless we agree otherwise together.
